Objectives & labour split

1. Ship a playable Godot game in 8 hours — every team leaves with a running scene.

2. Use Ziva as a Godot teammate, not as the designer — Hobby default, human finish.

3. Cross-club recruitment — both clubs sign people up; beginners pair with shippers.

4. Foundations: untapped (AI in Godot), workflow (a real jam), human finish (it has to play).

Ziva in Godot — Cursor is optional, not the grant line

Godot 4 is free and 2D-first. Ziva runs inside the editor (scene tree, errors, running game). Hobby is free: $3/mo premium usage + unlimited free model. Basic is $20 USD/mo = CAD $28.00 at Bank of Canada USD/CAD 1.4002 (18 Sep 2026). Cursor Pro is the same $20 USD, but it is a text editor — no live scene tree without MCP. Buying both is CAD $56/person. Recommendation: Ziva Hobby for everyone. Upgrade to Ziva Basic only if a 30-minute Hobby test fails. Cursor: BYO or campus credits (hi@cursor.com), never 30–50 paid seats.

Judging rubric — UI draft, Game Dev to review

Criterion (1–5)	What a 5 looks like
Playable	A stranger runs it in 60 seconds without an exec at the keyboard
Theme	The secret theme is readable in play, not only in the title
Godot craft	Scenes/nodes/signals on purpose; not one 2,000-line script
AI as tool	Ziva helped; the team can show what they kept vs threw away
Human finish	Scope cut, juiced, playable loop — not a dumped agent transcript

Logistics, Risk & Compliance

- Room booking coordinated exclusively by the SECC. Game Dev logistics lead files through them.
- Risk: low. Indoor Saturday, no alcohol, no overnight, no sport. PEO on site the whole time.
- Food and beverages only through SAIT's approved caterer (Curated Catering / Hotel Arts) via SECC. Drops 9:30 and 12:30.
- A/V picked up from SECC and returned after teardown (~20:30).
- Attendance list for the event report. Posters: tabloid 11×17, Saitsa Clubs logo unaltered, $10 built-in. Down within 48 hours.
- Disclose the 50/50 sister-club contribution to the SECC. If this is classed as a social event, grant funds must already be in the account before the event proposal. No spend before approval.
- Ziva Hobby is free. If we buy Ziva Basic, it is one month of event access, then cancelled — not a member gift. Do not buy Cursor for the room.

Promotion Plan

- Posters on Saitsa General Poster Boards (approved submission first).
- Both clubs' Discord, Instagram, Teams, and Rubric RSVP. Cap 50; waitlist after that.
- Clubs Fall Expo / Showcase (13–14 October 2026) if the jam is after it.
- Pitch: Godot + Ziva, 8 hours, doors 9:00, lunch included, beginners welcome.
